FIRE PREVENTION WEEK STARTS NEXT SUNDAY

Maine farmers, homemakers, young people, and others concerned are urged to observe National Fire Prevention Week, which starts next Sunday, October 6. Checking your property for fire hazards and removing them is the first and most important step. Theme of Fire Prevention Week this year is: "Make sure of your family's tomorrow—don't give fire a place to start."

Morris R. Warner, Extension Service agricultural engineer and secretary-treasurer of the Maine Farm and Home Safety Council, asks Maine people to look out for their own interests by preventing fires.

SKILLINGTON DOWEL PLANT TOTAL LOSS IN FIRE THIS MORNING

The entire plant of the Bethel Dowel Corporation at Skillington was destroyed by a fire which was discovered about 2:10 this Thursday morning. Included in the loss were five carloads of dowels in the warehouse and considerable material in the yard. Some of the yard equipment and a little from the office were saved.

The mill was reopened in June 1955 by the Superior Dowel Corporation of New York after several years operation by R. H. Young and Son. This spring the name was changed to the Bethel Dowel Corporation and continued with Joseph McGowan, Jr., owner and manager. Thirty were employed in the mill.

Although delayed for a time in getting water from the Androscoggin River, the firemen were able to help in saving bolts and dowel stock in the yard. All buildings in the area were threatened by the high wind during the early stages of the blaze, as large sparks spread over a wide area. The home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Carver was especially in danger as it was directly in the wind's path. Firemen with Indian pumps prevented spread of fire in the dead grass and leaves.

New buildings and machinery have been acquired during the present ownership and it is believed that possibly some machinery is not seriously damaged. There was some insurance.

The mill was on the site of one of the first steam mills in this part of the country, and Skillington was for a long time known only as Steam Mill Village. The mill just burned was operated for years by the late J. P. Skillings as a spool mill and rebuilt by him following a fire about 50 years ago.

PUR LIME UNDER TREES

Many Maine apple orchardists have been putting too much of their lime down the middle of the rows between the trees and not enough directly down under the branches. Rudolph A. Paray, Extension Service fruit specialist, says it's hard to get enough lime under the trees where the soil is usually more acid and needs more lime. But it pays to spread the lime in the area from within a foot of the trunk out to the drip of the branches. Of course, what lime falls in the middle of the row helps increase the soil cover of the orchard, adds Paray.

ECUADOR AT FALL MEETING

One of the features of the annual fall meeting of the Extension women was a talk by Carlos Molina, an International Farm Youth Delegate from Ecuador, with his colored slides especially 4-H club work being done under his guidance which provoked many questions from his audience.

Mr. Molina, who has done an unusual job of learning the English language in a very short time, held the interest of his audience throughout his discussion. He showed a map of his country and told of the agricultural enterprises carried on there. Being an Extension Agent he was especially interested in the people he worked with and told of some of the methods he uses in his teaching.

The following officers were elected for 1957: Mrs. Carleton Fullerton, Buckfield chairman; Mrs. Albert Meserve, Canton, Vice Chair; Mrs. Viola Spring, East Hiram, treasurer; and Mrs. Celia Holland, South Hiram, secretary.

COMM. CLOUGH TELLS C. OF C. STATE'S ECONOMIC PROBLEMS

Speaking before an interested group of members and guests at the first fall meeting of the Bethel Chamber of Commerce Tuesday evening, Commissioner Fred A. Clough, Jr., of the State Department of Economic Development, gave an enlightening talk on the purposes of his department.

He stressed the importance of maintaining and expanding the present industries in every community. Noting the state's loss of certain textile plants and the widespread concern resulting, he mentioned several cases of great expansion in independent woolen plants in the state.

Mr. Clough pointed out the interest of electronics manufacturer's in seeking Maine locations and cited the pleasing experience of two of the principal manufacturers who have plants in small Maine towns. The interest of one of the largest companies in a site such as Bethel can offer was reported.

Mention was made of the survey of this community, which has been submitted to the State Department and the visits of their representatives here. Suggestions in regard to further development in the lumber business were mentioned.

Mr. Clough spoke of the competition among the states for expansion of all kinds, stating that all but two of the states have organizations similar to ours. He noted that industrial expansion is but one function of his department, as all phases of economic development are considered and promoted in many ways.

Altogether the listeners, and participants in the discussion which followed, were not discouraged about Bethel's prospects.

"BLOOD" TO BE THEME OF N. E. RHEUMATISM SOCIETY'S FALL MEETING AT BETHEL

Medicine in training some of its biggest research guns on a study of human blood in an effort to learn more about the nation's baffling crippling arthritis.

This theme will be the subject of an address here Friday, October 4, before a fall meeting of the New England Rheumatism Society at Bethel Inn.

Dr. William S. Clark of Cleveland, Ohio, associate professor of medicine at Western Reserve University, will give the principal talk.

According to Dr. Clark human blood tells an arthritis story of its own. Although blood tests are not infallible they tend to show the presence of rheumatoid arthritis, one of the most crippling forms of the disease.

The majority of patients so afflicted possess an abnormal protein in their serum.

Research into the nature and origin of this protein may lead scientists up to and over the twin hurdles arthritis now presents the cause of and a cure for the disease.

Now in its tenth year, the New England Rheumatism Society is made up of 200 physicians and surgeons all specialists in the study and treatment of Rheumatic Diseases. The officers: Dr. Phillip P. Thompson, Portland, Maine, President; Dr. Theodore A. Potter, of Boston, Vice-President; and Dr. James D. C. Cowan of Marblehead, Secretary-Treasurer.

If anyone has papers they wish to donate contact a Girl Scout as they are anxious to help and earn credits.

DUTCH ELM DISEASE JUMPS TO NORTHERN MAINE

Most recent findings of the Dutch elm disease are in Jackman and Township 6 R. 3 in Baxter State Park west of Patten. Appearance of the disease in these two places remote from previously known infected areas should impress Maine Citizens with the probability of the disease appearing anywhere in the State from now on.

Previous findings have been in towns from Kittery to Brunswick; in Bangor, Orono, Old Town, and Millford; and in Magalloway and Lincoln Plantations - west of Bangor.

The distance separating the Jackman and T. 6 R. 3 areas from previously infected towns demonstrated that spread can be extensive and rapid and that no towns can longer expect to be safe from appearance of the disease. Immediate plans for community prevention measures should be imperative with all municipalities in order to realize most effective results with efficient and minimum expenditures.

The disease has shown a pronounced increase in 1957. Surveys by Maine Forest Service personnel have revealed more diseased trees this year than in all other years together since 1932 when the disease was first found in the State.

All citizens are reminded that a bulletin describing details of the disease and suggested prevention programs is available from the Maine Forest Service in Augusta.

GOULD ACADEMY

Face Norway on Parents' Day

Feature event of Gould Academy's Parents Day here this week and will be the Norway High-Gould Academy game, starting at 2 p. m. The Norway Rams are an improved club this year and have a chance of upsetting the Huskies for the first time in years. The Academy eleven has been weakened by injury to Jim Hill and Gerry Smith. Smith may be ready for this week end but Hill's ankle injury may keep him out for some time.

Norway has a victory over Paris and Gould had to rally to come from behind to beat the Cardinals. This should be a close, hard-fought game for the entertainment of the many parents who will be on the campus Saturday.

Cross Country Meet Here Friday

The postponed cross country meet between Gould and Kennett High will be run Friday at 3:30. The Fryeburg meeting originally scheduled for Friday has been postponed to a later date. This will be open season for both teams. The delayed opening of the season resulted from the late opening of Kennett High School because of construction work at the North Conway school. Next week the Gould thin-sticks will travel on Thursday to Portland High.

Gould Wins 12-13

Gould came from 12-0 behind to an 18-12 victory on the Gould field last Saturday over South Paris. The scrappy visitors outplayed the Academy eleven for nearly three periods as they led 12-0 with only three minutes of the third period remaining.

The first Paris score came late in the second period with King plunging over from the one half yard.

Line after a 30-yard march. The visitors had a 3-3 advantage in first downs during the first two periods.

Midway in the third period Pike of Paris blocked a Gould punt on the G. A. 40 yard line. In just seven plays, aided by a 27 yard pass to Gatchell, the Cardinals scored again. This time it was Gatchell from 4 yards out. Paris kicked off to Gould but the home team lost the ball on a fumble. Paris failed to gain and their fourth down punt was blocked on their own thirty. Jim Hill and Al Sumner ripped off nice gains and Hill scored from 5 yards out, just before the third period ended.

On 4th down and two yards to go from midfield, Paris gambled but failed as the Gould line held. With Hill and Sumner going for long gains Gould tied it up as Sumner scored on a 14 yard run off his own right end.

The final score came after Gould recovered a fumble on Paris' 40 yard line. Sumner carried on five plays for 21 yards. After one incomplete pass Ted White connected with Guy Whitten for a 19 yard T. D. pass with Whitten carrying the last seven yards.

First downs were all even at 10 each. South Paris passed seven times making only one good for eight yards and had three interceptions. Gould passed only three times but one was good for 19 yards and a T. D.

MISSIONARY TO SPEAK AT CHURCH MEETING IN SOUTH BRIDGTON ON OCTOBER 19

The Rev. Charles Paul Heineman, a Congregational Christian missionary stationed at Tiruvadanal, South India, will speak at Union and Oxford Associations at South Bridgton on Thursday, October 19th. Mr. and Mrs. Heineman and their four children, ranging in age from 2 to 11, recently returned to the United States for furlough after an absence of six years.

A mechanical engineer, as well as an ordained minister, Mr. Heineman, with his wife's able assistance, has pioneered in the field of economic and social uplift. Mrs. Heineman, the former Mary Ellen Moore of Cape Cod, is a specialist in village education.

For several years Mr. Heineman was manager of the Trade School at Puzosai, an institution combining the training of Indian youth in carpentry, metal work and other crafts with character-building education.

The Heinemans moved to Tiruvadanal last year to study firsthand the social economic needs, as well as the resources, of the community. On their return to Tiruvadanal after their furlough, they hope to start new industries in the area to utilize some of its undeveloped resources.

Experience shows that success is due less to ability than to zeal. The winner is he who gives himself to his work, body and soul.

—Charles Buxton

Charles Paul Heineman was born in Illinois and educated at Rensselaer Institute, Troy, N. Y. He worked as a mechanical and test engineer in New York and Connecticut before studying at the Hartford Theological Seminary in preparation for his service abroad.

Mrs. Heineman, daughter of a Methodist minister, studied at the University of Iowa and the Kennedy School of Missions in Hartford. She went to India in 1950 under the Methodist Board and met Mr. Heineman on the mission field.

Last year Mr. Heineman had the rare privilege of accompanying the eminent Vinoba Bhave, one of Gandhi's closest disciples, on a walking tour through the villages.

How much would you steal if you had the chance?

Shocked at the thought? Yet the truth is that honest, everyday people are stealing the lives of others in traffic accidents! It's just criminal—you can help stop it!

BACK THE ATTACK ON TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS

Here's how you can help:

1. Drive safely, courteously yourself. Observe speed limits, warning signs. When traffic laws are obeyed, deaths go DOWN.

2. Insist on strict enforcement of all traffic laws. They work for you, not against you. When traffic laws are strictly enforced, deaths go DOWN.

Leadership ability, service in church work and a record of active participation as a 4-H Club member have earned for Clifton Constant, 4-H Club Agent in Franklin County, a national 4-H Fellowship.

He is one of four 1957-58 fellowship winners who will receive a $2000 study grant awarded by Massey-Harris-Ferguson, Inc.

His study program begins in September. Through a cooperative arrangement with the Federal Extension Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Constant will be in Washington for nine months. Enroute to the capital, he will stop over in Chicago for a week to study the services of the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work and visit several business concerns.

Constant helped to form the 4-H Club at the University of Maine where he received his bachelor of science degree in animal husbandry. He was on the college dairy judging team and belonged to the agriculture club and Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity. An exceptional student as well as a good worker, he was on the dean's list for five semesters.

In 1950 he won the Keller award for the most outstanding boy in his county, and the following year was chosen to receive the Alpha Zeta award given annually to a Maine 4-H boy.

Keenly interested in dairy breeding and nutrition, Constant hopes eventually to become a specialist and work with 4-H youth. He organized a county dairy foundation which has become one of the most successful in the state.

BETHEL AND LOCKE MILLS YOUTH MEMBERS OF SOCCER TEAM AT GORHAM S. T. C.

Frank Benson of Bethel and John Chase of Locke Mills are members of the soccer team at Gorham State Teachers College. Both boys play halfback on the first "Hill-topper" soccer team to compete on the intercollegiate level. Frank is a sophomore at the school, while John is a freshman.

Frank is a graduate of Gould Academy. His fine play at halfback was a big factor in the recent 5-2 win over St. Francis of Bliddeford. This was the first scrimmage of the season for the Gorham Teachers.

John, a graduate of Woodstock High School, is proving to be a soccer player at G. T. C. His long kicks proved to be too much for the St. Francis team in Gorham 5-2 win. His fine defensive play kept the ball away from the Teachers goal most of the game.

The soccer schedule for 1957 is as follows: October 1, at Plymouth S. T. C. (New Hampshire); 3, Lyndon S. T. C. (Vermont); 10, at Bridgewater S. T. C. (Mass.); 14, at Rhode Island College of Education; 18, at Salem S. T. C. (Mass.); 22, at Salem S. T. C.; 26, at Keene S. T. C. (New Hampshire).
